SAFE ENVIRONMENT TRAINING

Online background checks and training for our Safe Environment training program. The company, Proud to Protect, was selected to train all Church leaders, employees and volunteers. See below how easy it is to take the Safe environment training.

- 1) To register online for Safe and Sacred go to <https://safeandsacred-fairbanks.org>
- 2) You will be directed to register for a CICS background search. This step is included for everyone, even if you have already done so before Prior registrants will be noted and not approved for a second background check.
- 3) Once registered with CICS, the site will return to the Safe and Sacred Training.
- 4) Click on the training, Serving Vulnerable Populations.
- 5) When completed, take the quiz and print your certificate of completion.

Prior to registering, please contact parish office which you are volunteering for, so you can be added to parish list of those who have been through the class and for the ministry(s) in which you wish to serve in the parish.

Act of Spiritual Communion

My Jesus, I believe that you
Are present in the most Blessed Sacrament. I love
You above all things and I Desire to receive You into my soul. Since I cannot now
Receive You Sacramentally,
Come at least spiritually into
My heart. I embrace You as if You have already come, and
Unite myself wholly to You.
Never permit me to be Separated from You. Amen.

Liturgy Matters #28

The Institution Narrative is the next part of the Eucharistic prayer and the strand of what the priest is saying comes very much into the fore. A precise and specific event from the life of Jesus is retold; namely, the supper with his disciples the night before he died. The priest recounts this story not merely with words but with gestures as well. The priest retells the moment, acting out before the Father in simple stylized gestures what Jesus did and said at the supper. When he tells that Jesus took bread, he picks up the bread that the people have brought in the procession that day. When he tells how Jesus raised his eyes to heaven, he raises his eyes. He relates that Jesus then blessed the bread, broke it, gave it to his disciples, and said.... At this point in his telling when the priest comes to what Jesus said, he bows slightly and quotes the very words of Jesus. It is important to notice that when the priest says the words of Jesus at this point, he is using the present tense: "Take this, all of you, and eat it, this is my body which will be given up for you." Something similar happens with the wine when the priest recounts after supper Jesus took the cup. He continues the narrative with the cup of wine and again when he comes to the words of Jesus over the cup, he again bows slightly and speaks the words in present tense: "This is the cup of my blood." The effect is the same. With the saying of these words, the bread and the wine has been transformed into the body and blood of Christ.

What Jesus did at the Last Supper and what he still does now in this moment, for this is an Hour that does not pass away, was to set in motion the mighty events that would be the culmination of his life. He was giving his disciples a sign together with a command to repeat it in his memory. This sign would reveal the meaning of his death, which he knew he would undergo on the morrow. The actual events surrounding his death and the long hours which it was stretched out were too terrible to be understood by anyone, but with this sign performed before and repeated after, Jesus was revealing the meaning of his death and that he was willingly submitting to it.

Please remember to pray for Bishop Chad, priests, religious, deacons and seminarians currently in Alaska; Ben Orr, Ashton Ishnook, Robin Eagan, Gail Riedman; for all ill and for those who care for them; leaders of UAF making decisions for the opening of UAF in the Fall. Please send prayer requests to uaf.stmark@gmail.com.
